Chapter 6: Agenda 21 and UN Commission on Sustainable Development

Contents :

1. Stakeholders: Governments

1.1 Control of communicable diseases

1.1.1 Activities

- 1.1.1.1 National public health systems
- 1.1.1.2 Public information and health education
- 1.1.1.3 Intersectoral cooperation and coordination
- 1.1.1.4 Control of environmental factors that influence the spread of communicable diseases
- 1.1.1.5 Primary health care system
- 1.1.1.6 Support for research and methodology development
- 1.1.1.7 Development and dissemination of technology

1.1.2 Means of implementation

- 1.1.2.1 Scientific and technological means
- 1.1.2.2 Human resource development
- 1.1.2.3 Capacity-building

1.1.3 Finance and cost evaluation

1.2 Reducing health risks from environmental pollution and hazards

1.2.1 Finance and cost evaluation

1.3 Meeting primary health care needs, particularly in rural areas

1.3.1 Finance and cost evaluation

1.4 Protecting vulnerable groups

1.4.1 Finance and cost evaluation

1.5 Meeting the urban health challenge

1.5.1 Finance and cost evaluation

2. Stakeholders: Governments with international assistance

2.1 Reducing health risks from environmental pollution and hazards

2.1.1 Activities

- 2.1.1.1 Urban air pollution
- 2.1.1.2 Indoor air pollution
- 2.1.1.3 Water pollution
- 2.1.1.4 Pesticides
- 2.1.1.5 Solid waste
- 2.1.1.6 Human settlements
- 2.1.1.7 Noise
- 2.1.1.8 Ionizing and non-ionizing radiation

Protecting and Promoting Human Health Commitments

Chapter 6: Agenda 21 and UN Commission on Sustainable Development

- 2.1.1.9 Industry and energy production
- 2.1.1.10 Monitoring and assessment
- 2.1.1.11 Injury monitoring and reduction
- 2.1.1.12 Research promotion and methodology development
- 2.1.2 Means of implementation
 - 2.1.2.1 Scientific and technological means
 - 2.1.2.2 Human resource development
 - 2.1.2.3 Capacity-building

3. Stakeholders: Governments and local authorities, with the support of relevant non-governmental organizations and international organizations

3.1 Meeting primary health care needs, particularly in rural areas

- 3.1.1 Activities
 - 3.1.1.1 Build basic health infrastructures, monitoring and planning systems
 - 3.1.1.2 Support research and methodology development
- 3.1.2 Means of implementation
 - 3.1.2.1 Scientific and technological means
 - 3.1.2.2 Human resource development
 - 3.1.2.3 Capacity-building

4. Stakeholders: Governments, in cooperation with local and non-governmental organizations

4.1 Protecting vulnerable groups

- 4.1.1 Activities
 - 4.1.1.1 Infants and children
 - 4.1.1.2 Youth
 - 4.1.1.3 Women
 - 4.1.1.4 Indigenous people and their communities
- 4.1.2 Means of implementation
 - 4.1.2.1 Scientific and technological means
 - 4.1.2.2 Human resource development
 - 4.1.2.3 Capacity-building

5. Stakeholders: Local authorities, with the appropriate support of national governments and international organizations

5.1 Meeting the urban health challenge

- 5.1.1 Activities
 - 5.1.1.1 Develop and implement municipal and local health plans
 - 5.1.1.2 Survey the existing health, social and environmental conditions

Protecting and Promoting Human Health Commitments

Chapter 6: Agenda 21 and UN Commission on Sustainable Development

- 5.1.1.3 Strengthen environmental health services
- 5.1.1.4 Establish and maintain city networks for collaboration and exchange of models of good practice
- 5.1.2 Means of implementation
 - 5.1.2.1 Scientific and technological means
 - 5.1.2.2 Human resource development
 - 5.1.2.3 Capacity-building
